(b) the court is satisfied that a copy of that statement has been served on the defendant, the court may require the defendant to indicate to what extent he accepts each allegation in the statement and, so far as he does not accept any such allegation, to indicate any matters he proposes to rely on.

(3) If the defendant fails in any respect to comply with a requirement under subsection (2), he may be treated for the purposes of this section as accepting every allegation in the statement apart from any allegation in respect of which he has complied with the requirement.

(4) Where —

(a) there is tendered to the court by the defendant a statement as to any matters relevant to determining the amount that might be realised at the time the confiscation order is made; and

(b) the prosecution accepts to any extent any allegation in the statement, the court may, for the purposes of that determination, treat the acceptance by the prosecution as conclusive of the matters to which it relates.

(5) An allegation may be accepted or a matter indicated for the purposes of this section either —

(a) orally before the court; or

(b) in writing.
(6) No acceptance by the defendant under this section that benefits have been derived by him from drug dealing or from criminal conduct, as the case may be, shall be admissible in evidence in any proceedings for an offence.

Amount to be recovered under confiscation order

10.—(1) Subject to subsection (3), the amount to be recovered from the defendant under the confiscation order shall be the amount the court assesses to be the value of the benefits derived by the defendant from drug dealing or from criminal conduct, as the case may be.

(2) If the court is satisfied as to any matter relevant for determining the amount that might be realised at the time the confiscation order is made (whether by an acceptance under section 9 or otherwise), the court may issue a certificate giving its opinion as to the matters concerned and shall do so if satisfied as mentioned in subsection (3).

(3) If the court is satisfied that the amount that might be realised at the time the confiscation order is made is less than the amount the court assesses to be the value of the benefits derived by the defendant from drug dealing or from criminal conduct, as the case may be, the amount to be recovered from the defendant under the confiscation order shall be the amount appearing to the court to be the amount that might be so realised.

(4) If, on an application made in accordance with subsection (5), the court is satisfied that the amount that might be realised in the case of the person in question is greater than the amount taken into account in making the confiscation order (whether it was greater than was thought when the order was made or has subsequently increased), the court shall issue a certificate to that effect, giving its reasons.
(5) An application under subsection (4) may be made either by the Public Prosecutor or by a receiver appointed under section 16 or 19 in relation to the realisable property of the person in question.

(6) Where a certificate has been issued under subsection (4), the Public Prosecutor may apply to the court for an increase in the amount to be recovered under the confiscation order; and on that application the court may —

(a) substitute for that amount such amount (not exceeding the amount assessed as the value referred to in subsection (1)) as appears to the court to be appropriate having regard to the amount now shown to be realisable; and

(b) increase the term of imprisonment fixed in respect of the confiscation order under section 14(1) if the effect of the substitution is to increase the maximum period applicable in relation to the order under section 14(1).

Interest on sums unpaid under confiscation order

11.—(1) If any sum required to be paid by a person under a confiscation order is not paid when it is required to be paid, that person shall be liable to pay interest on that sum for the period for which it remains unpaid.

(2) The amount of the interest shall for the purposes of enforcement be treated as part of the amount to be recovered from him under the confiscation order.

(3) The rate of interest under subsection (1) shall be at the same rate as a judgment debt.

Definition of principal terms used

12.—(1) For the purposes of sections 9 and 10, the amount that might be realised at the time a confiscation order is made against the defendant shall be —
(a) the total of the values at that time of all the realisable property held by the defendant; less

(b) where there are obligations having priority at that time, the total amounts payable in pursuance of such obligations, together with the total of the values at that time of all gifts caught by this Act.

(2) Subject to subsections (3) to (9), for the purposes of this Act, the value of property (other than cash) in relation to any person holding the property —

(a) where any other person holds an interest in the property, shall be —

(i) the market value of the first-mentioned person’s beneficial interest in the property; less

(ii) the amount required to discharge any incumbrance (other than a charging order) on that interest; and

(b) in any other case, shall be its market value.

(3) Subject to subsection (9), references in this Act to the value at any time (referred to in subsection (4) as the material time) of a gift caught by this Act are references to —

(a) the value of the gift to the recipient when he received it adjusted to take account of subsequent changes in the value of money; or

(b) where subsection (4) applies, the value mentioned therein, whichever is the greater.

(4) Subject to subsection (9), if at the material time the recipient holds —

(a) the property which he received (not being cash); or

(b) property which, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, represents in his hands the property which he received, the value referred to in subsection (3)(b) shall be the value to him at the material time of the property mentioned in paragraph (a) or, as the case may be, of the property mentioned in paragraph (b) so far as it so represents the property which he received, but disregarding in either case any charging order.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (1), an obligation has priority at any time if it is an obligation of the defendant to —

(a) pay an amount due in respect of a fine, or other order of a court, imposed or made on conviction of an offence, where the fine was imposed or order made before the confiscation order; or

(b) pay any sum which would be included among the preferential debts in the defendant’s bankruptcy commencing on the date of the confiscation order or winding up under an order of the court made on that date.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (5)(b), “preferential debts” —

(a) in relation to bankruptcy, means the debts to be paid in priority under section 90 of the Bankruptcy Act (Cap. 20) (assuming the date of the confiscation order to be the date of the bankruptcy order); and

(b) in relation to winding up, means the debts to be paid in priority in accordance with section 328 of the Companies Act (Cap. 50) (assuming the date of the confiscation order to be the commencement date of the winding up).

(b) it was made by the defendant at any time and was a gift of property which is or is part of the benefits derived by the defendant from criminal conduct.

[25/99]

(9) For the purposes of this Act —

(a) the circumstances in which the defendant is to be treated as making a gift include those where he transfers property to another person, directly or indirectly, for a consideration the value of which is significantly less than the value of the consideration provided by the defendant; and

(b) in those circumstances, this section shall apply as if the defendant had made a gift of such share in the property as bears to the whole property the same proportion as the difference between the values referred to in paragraph (a) bears to the value of the consideration provided by the defendant.

Protection of rights of third party

13.—(1) Where an application is made for a confiscation order under section 4 or 5, a person who asserts an interest in the property may apply to the court, before the confiscation order is made, for an order under subsection (2).

[Act 21 of 2014 wef 01/09/2014]

(b) that he acquired the interest —

(i) for sufficient consideration; and

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) —

there are no personal representatives, such beneficiary or

(b) is specified in the order.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (3), the value of the instrumentality shall be its full value, even if the defendant did not expend any amount for the purpose of using it for the commission of the offence, or did not expend an amount equal to its full value for that purpose.

PART V
INFORMATION GATHERING POWERS

Division 1 — Production orders

Production orders

30.—(1) An authorised officer may, for the purpose of an investigation into drug dealing or criminal conduct, as the case may be, apply to a court for an order under subsection (2) in relation to particular material or material of a particular description.

(1A) This section shall not apply to any material in the possession of a financial institution.

(2) Subject to section 42(10), the court may, if on such an application it is satisfied that the conditions to subsection (4) are fulfilled, make an order that the person who appears to the court to be in possession of the material to which the application relates shall —

(a) produce the material to an authorised officer for him to take away; or

(b) give an authorised officer access to it, within such period as the order may specify.

(3) The period to be specified in an order under subsection (2) shall be 7 days unless it appears to the court that a longer or shorter period would be appropriate in the particular circumstances of the application.
(4) The conditions referred to in subsection (2) are —

(a) that there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that a specified person has carried on or has benefited from drug dealing or from criminal conduct, as the case may be;

[b] [Act 21 of 2014 wef 01/09/2014]

(b) that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the material to which the application relates —

(i) is likely to be of substantial value (whether by itself or together with other material) to the investigation for the purpose of which the application is made; and

(ii) does not consist of or include items subject to legal privilege; and

(c) that there are reasonable grounds for believing that it is in the public interest, having regard —

(i) to the benefit likely to accrue to the investigation if the material is obtained; and

(ii) to the circumstances under which the person in possession of the material holds it, that the material should be produced or that access to it should be given.

[25/99]

(5) Where a court makes an order under subsection (2)(b) in relation to material on any premises, it may, on the same or a subsequent application of an authorised officer, order any person who appears to him to be entitled to grant entry to the premises to allow an authorised officer to enter the premises to obtain access to the material.

(6) Rules of Court may provide for —

(a) the discharge and variation of orders under this section; and

(b) proceedings relating to such orders.
Where the material, to which an application under this section relates, consists of information contained in or accessible by means of any data equipment —

(a) an order under subsection (2)(a) shall have effect as an order to produce the material in a form in which it can be taken away and in which it is visible and legible; and

(b) an order under subsection (2)(b) shall have effect as an order to give access to the material in a form in which it is visible and legible.

In subsection (7), “data equipment” means any equipment which —

(a) automatically processes information;

(b) automatically records or stores information;

(c) can be used to cause information to be automatically recorded, stored or otherwise processed on other equipment (wherever situated);

(d) can be used to retrieve information whether the information is recorded or stored in the equipment itself or in other equipment (wherever situated).

An order under subsection (2) —

(a) shall not confer any right to production of, or access to, items subject to legal privilege;

(b) shall have effect notwithstanding any obligation as to secrecy or other restriction upon the disclosure of information imposed by statute or otherwise; and

(c) may be made in relation to material in the possession of a public body as defined in section 42(11).

A person is not excused from producing or making available any material when required to do so by an order under this section on the ground that —

(a) the production or making available of the material might tend to incriminate the person or make the person liable to a penalty; or
(b) the production or making available of the material would be in breach of an obligation (whether imposed by law or otherwise) of the person not to disclose the existence or contents of the material.

(11) Where a person produces or makes available any material pursuant to an order under this section, the production or making available of the material, or any information or thing obtained as a direct or indirect consequence of the production or making available of the material shall not be admissible against the person in any criminal proceedings except a proceeding for an offence against section 33(1).

(12) For the purposes of subsection (1), proceedings on an application for a restraint order or a confiscation order are not criminal proceedings.

(13) An authorised officer may exercise the powers conferred on him by this section notwithstanding any provision in any other written law relating to the production of, or the giving of any access to, any particular material or material of a particular description.

done in relation to any funds, investment or property in the account of that customer in consequence of the production of or access to those materials.

(6) The proceedings for an application for a production order under this section shall be heard in camera.

(6A) The Public Prosecutor or the person duly authorised by him may exercise the powers conferred on the Public Prosecutor or the person, as the case may be, by this section notwithstanding any provision in any other written law relating to the production of, or the giving of any access to, any particular material or material of a particular description.

(7) [Deleted by Act 21 of 2014 wef 01/09/2014]
