(2) The approved mediator to whom is referred any specified employment dispute in a mediation request must issue to the claimant a claim referral certificate in respect of every unresolved specified employment dispute listed in the mediation request, if —

- (a) the respondent is given reasonable notice of, but does not attend, the mediation for that dispute;
- (b) no settlement is reached at the end of the mediation in relation to one or more of the specified employment disputes listed in the mediation request; or
- (c) the approved mediator is satisfied that there is no reasonable prospect of settling through mediation the specified employment dispute.

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(ba) the total amount payable to a party under the settlement agreement, in respect of every wrongful dismissal dispute (if any) settled at the mediation, must not exceed the prescribed claim limit in section 12(7)(b) that is applicable to that party; and

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(c) the settlement agreement must be signed by or on behalf of each party.

(2) A District Court may register a settlement agreement on the application of any party to the settlement agreement, but may refuse to register if the application is not made within the period prescribed by Rules of Court made under section 33 for this purpose.

(3) Where the settlement agreement is registered in a District Court —

(a) the settlement agreement is, for the purposes of execution, of the same force and effect as if the settlement agreement had been a judgment given in the District Court and entered on the date of the registration;

(b) proceedings may be taken on the settlement agreement as if the settlement agreement had been a judgment given in the District Court; and

(c) any amount (payable to a person) for which the settlement agreement is registered carries interest as if that amount was a judgment debt.

(4) Where a settlement agreement is registered in a District Court, any party to the settlement agreement may, within such period as may be prescribed by Rules of Court made under section 33, apply to a District Court to set aside the registration of the settlement agreement.

(5) A District Court hearing an application under subsection (4) may, if any condition in subsection (6) is satisfied —

 - (b) do either or both of the following:

 - (ii) refer any specified employment dispute purportedly resolved by the settlement agreement for mediation under this Part (if the settlement agreement arose from a mediation under this Part) or for tripartite mediation to be conducted by an approved mediator (if the settlement agreement arose from a tripartite mediation conducted by an approved mediator), with or without the consent of the parties to the settlement agreement.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5), the conditions are as follows:

 - (d) the registration of the settlement agreement is contrary to public policy.
- (7) Where a District Court sets aside under subsection (5)(b)(i) a settlement agreement, and refers under subsection (5)(b)(ii) any specified employment dispute purportedly resolved by the settlement agreement for mediation under this Part, the following apply:
- (a) the approved mediator must issue to the claimant a claim referral certificate in respect of every unresolved specified employment dispute referred by the District Court, if —
 - (i) the respondent is given reasonable notice of, but does not attend, the mediation;
 - (ii) no settlement is reached at the end of the mediation in relation to one or more of the specified employment disputes referred by the District Court; or

(iii) the approved mediator is satisfied that there is no reasonable prospect of settling through mediation one or more of the specified employment disputes referred by the District Court;

(ii) refuse to issue to the claimant a claim referral certificate in respect of all or any of the unresolved specified employment disputes referred by the District Court.

(8) In subsection (7), a specified employment dispute is unresolved if the dispute is not settled and is not withdrawn by the claimant.

(9) To avoid doubt, where a District Court sets aside under subsection (5)(b)(i) a settlement agreement, and refers under subsection (5)(b)(ii) any specified employment dispute purportedly resolved by the settlement agreement for tripartite mediation to be conducted by an approved mediator, section 30H(3) to (9) of the Industrial Relations Act (Cap. 136) applies to that dispute as it applies to a dispute which the Commissioner is notified of under section 30H(2) of that Act.

Transfer of proceedings

17.—(1) Where it appears to an appropriate court, on the application of a party to any proceedings before a tribunal, that there is sufficient reason for those proceedings, or a counterclaim in those proceedings, to be dealt with by that court, that court may order those proceedings or that counterclaim (as the case may be) to be transferred to that court.

(2) An application under subsection (1) must be made within such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by Rules of Court made under section 33.

(3) An order under subsection (1) may be made on such terms as the appropriate court thinks fit.

(4) Where the appropriate court orders under subsection (1) that a counterclaim in proceedings before a tribunal be transferred to that court, and the tribunal determines the claim in those proceedings by ordering the respondent to pay money to the claimant, unless that court at any time otherwise orders, execution on the tribunal's order is stayed until the proceedings on the counterclaim are concluded.

(5) In this section, "appropriate court" means the High Court, a District Court or a Magistrate's Court.

Division 3 — Proceedings before tribunal

Proceedings conducted in private unless tribunal orders otherwise

18.—(1) Subject to subsections (2), (2A), (3) and (4), all proceedings before a tribunal are to be conducted in private.

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(2) A tribunal may, on its own initiative or on the application of any party to the proceedings, and in such manner as may be prescribed by Rules of Court made under section 33, do either or both of the following:

- (a) allow one or more individuals to assist in resolving the claim amicably through mediation or conciliation;
- (b) allow one or more individuals of skill and experience in the matter to which the proceedings relate to sit with the tribunal and act as assessors.

(2A) A tribunal may permit an officer appointed under section 3(2) of the Employment Act to participate in any proceedings before a tribunal by doing one or more of the following:

- (a) giving evidence in the proceedings;
- (b) producing any document, record or thing that is relevant to the proceedings;
- (c) making submissions in the proceedings.

(3) A tribunal may permit one or more of the following to observe the hearing of a claim:

- (a) any prescribed individual;
- (b) any individual belonging to a prescribed class of individuals;
- (c) any other individual that the tribunal deems fit.

(4) Regulations made under section 34 may prescribe different individuals or classes of individuals for different categories of claims for the purposes of subsection (3).

(5) To avoid doubt, subsection (1) does not prevent a tribunal from hearing 2 or more claims together, if it appears to the tribunal that doing so is convenient and does not prejudice any party to any of those claims.

Representation before tribunal

19.—(1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3), a party to proceedings before a tribunal —

- (a) must act in person;
- (b) cannot be represented by an advocate and solicitor; and
- (c) cannot be represented by an agent, whether paid or otherwise.

(2) A party other than an individual may be represented —

- (e) by such other individual as may be prescribed by regulations made under section 34.

(3) A party who is an individual may be represented by such other individual as may be prescribed by regulations made under section 34.

(5) In this section —

“body corporate” includes a limited liability partnership as defined in section 2(1) of the Limited Liability Partnerships Act (Cap. 163A);

“officer”, in relation to a body corporate, means a director, partner, member of the committee of management, chief executive, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate.

Hearing to be informal, etc.

20.—(1) Proceedings before a tribunal are to be conducted in an informal manner.

(2) A tribunal, when dealing with any claim, is to adopt a judge-led approach, that is to say, the tribunal —

(a) is to identify the relevant issues in the claim; and

(b) is to ensure that the relevant evidence is adduced by the parties to the proceedings before the tribunal.

(3) In adopting a judge-led approach, a tribunal may, at any time, on its own initiative or on the application of any party to the proceedings before the tribunal, direct any party or parties to those proceedings to appear before the tribunal, for the tribunal to make such order or give such direction as the tribunal thinks fit, for the just, expeditious and economical disposal of the claim.

(4) A tribunal may, on its own initiative or at the request of any party, summon any person to do either or both of the following:

(a) give evidence in any proceedings before a tribunal;

(b) produce any document, record or thing which is relevant in any proceedings before a tribunal.

(5) A tribunal may inquire into any matter which the tribunal considers relevant to a claim, whether or not the matter is raised by a party to the claim.

(6) When deciding any claim for employment assistance payment, or calculating the amount of an employment assistance payment, a tribunal may take into account the tripartite guidelines on re-employment.

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(6A) When deciding any claim involving a wrongful dismissal dispute, a tribunal —

(a) is to have regard to the tripartite guidelines on wrongful dismissal; and

(b) if any compensation is claimed, is to calculate the amount of that compensation in accordance with any regulations made under section 34(1).

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(7) To avoid doubt, if any party to any proceedings before a tribunal fails, without reasonable excuse, to attend those proceedings, a tribunal may hear the claim and make its decision in the absence of that party, even if the interests of that party may be prejudicially affected by the decision of the tribunal.

Evidence

21.—(1) A tribunal —

(a) is not bound by the rules of evidence in the conduct of any proceedings; and

(b) may inform itself on any matter in such manner as the tribunal thinks fit.

(1A) A tribunal may draw such inferences as the tribunal thinks fit from a party's failure to comply with any obligation of that party under any written law specified in the Fourth Schedule, including (but not limited to) an inference that any evidence that is not available on account of that party's failure to comply with that obligation would, if produced, have been unfavourable to that party.

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(2) Subject to subsection (3), evidence tendered to a tribunal need not be given on oath or affirmation.

(3) A tribunal may —

(a) require the whole or any part of any evidence tendered to a tribunal, whether orally or in writing, to be given on oath or affirmation; and

(b) for that purpose, administer an oath or affirmation.

(4) A tribunal may, on its own initiative, seek such other evidence, and make such other investigations and inquiries, as the tribunal thinks fit.

(5) All evidence and information obtained by a tribunal under subsection (4) for any proceedings must be disclosed to every party to those proceedings.

(6) A tribunal may require any written evidence given in proceedings before a tribunal to be verified by statutory declaration.

(7) A tribunal need not keep a record of the evidence given in any proceedings before the tribunal, but must make —

(a) a summary of the facts and issues in dispute, as determined by the tribunal; and

(b) notes of the proceedings.

Orders of tribunal

22.—(1) A tribunal may determine a claim within the tribunal's jurisdiction by making one or more of the following orders:

(a) an order requiring a party to pay money to another party;

(b) an order dismissing the whole or any part of the claim;

(c) an order requiring a party to pay costs to another party;

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

- (d) an order requiring an employer to reinstate an employee in the employee's former employment.

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(2) In deciding whether to make an order under subsection (1)(c), a tribunal may take into account any of the following matters:

- (a) whether the claim was frivolous or vexatious;
- (b) whether a party without reasonable excuse failed to attend a mediation under Part 2, or a tripartite mediation (conducted by an approved mediator), of a specified employment dispute for which the claim is lodged;
- (c) whether any party without reasonable excuse failed to attend any proceedings before the tribunal which that party was required to attend.

(3) A tribunal's order under subsection (1) is subject to such conditions as the tribunal thinks fit to impose.

(4) The total amount of money that a tribunal orders to be paid to a party under subsection (1)(a), in respect of every specified contractual dispute (if any) and every specified statutory dispute (if any) for which a claim is lodged, must not exceed the prescribed claim limit in section 12(7)(a) that is applicable to the party.

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(4A) The total amount of money that a tribunal orders to be paid to a party under subsection (1)(a), in respect of every wrongful dismissal dispute (if any) for which a claim is lodged, must not exceed the prescribed claim limit in section 12(7)(b) that is applicable to the party.

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(5) To avoid doubt —

- (a) any amount of money that a tribunal orders to be paid under subsection (1)(a) does not include any costs that a tribunal orders to be paid under subsection (1)(c); and
- (b) where a tribunal orders a party to pay an amount of money under subsection (1)(a) and costs under subsection (1)(c), any money paid by the party is to be applied first to the payment of the amount under subsection (1)(a), and then to the payment of the costs under subsection (1)(c).

(6) Where a tribunal does not have jurisdiction to determine a claim or any part of a claim, that claim or part (as the case may be) must be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction.

(7) A tribunal may, instead of determining a claim by making an order under subsection (1), refer any specified employment dispute for which the claim is lodged for mediation under Part 2 (if the claim arose from a mediation under Part 2) or for tripartite mediation to be conducted by an approved mediator (if the claim arose from a tripartite mediation conducted by an approved mediator), with or without the consent of the parties.

(8) A tribunal may, when making a referral under subsection (7), order all or any of the parties to personally attend the mediation under Part 2 or the tripartite mediation (as the case may be).

(9) A tribunal may correct an order made by the tribunal within 14 days after the date on which the order is made, or correct a statement of the tribunal's grounds for making the order within 14 days after the date on which the statement is issued by the tribunal, to the extent necessary to rectify any of the following things:

- (a) a clerical mistake;
- (b) an error arising from an accidental slip or omission;
- (c) a material miscalculation of figures, or a material mistake in the description of any person, thing or matter, referred to in the order or statement (as the case may be);
- (d) a defect of form.

(10) The tribunal may make the correction in subsection (9) on its own initiative or on the application of a party to the proceedings before the tribunal.

(11) Every order made by a tribunal under subsection (1) may be enforced in the same manner as a judgment given or an order made by a District Court.

*Division 4 — AppealsAppeal to High Court

23.—(1) Any party to proceedings before a tribunal may appeal to the High Court against an order made by the tribunal under section 22(1) —

- (a) on any ground involving a question of law; or
- (b) on the ground that the claim was outside the jurisdiction of the tribunal.

(2) An appeal lies to the High Court under this section only if leave to appeal is given by a District Court.

(3) Where the only reason for appealing against an order made by a tribunal under section 22(1) is to rectify any thing mentioned in section 22(9)(a) to (d), a District Court may, instead of giving leave to appeal —

- (a) extend the time under section 22(9) for the correction of the order; and
- (b) remit the matter to a tribunal for the correction of the order in accordance with section 22(9) and (10) (except to the extent that the time under section 22(9) may have been extended).

(4) Each of the following is final and is not subject to any appeal:

- (a) any order of a District Court giving or refusing leave under subsection (2);
- (b) any order of a District Court extending or refusing to extend under subsection (3)(a) the time under section 22(9) for the correction of an order made by a tribunal;
- (c) any order of a District Court remitting or refusing to remit under subsection (3)(b) a matter to a tribunal.

Appeal does not operate as stay of execution

24.—(1) An appeal against an order made by a tribunal under section 22(1) does not operate as a stay of execution of that order, unless a District Court or the High Court orders otherwise.

(2) A District Court or the High Court may direct that a stay of execution (of an order made by a tribunal) be subject to such conditions as the District Court or the High Court thinks fit to impose, including conditions as to costs, payment into a District Court or the High Court, or the giving of security.

(3) Any order or direction of a District Court on an application for a stay of execution (of an order made by a tribunal) is final and is not subject to any appeal.

(4) The High Court may order a stay of execution of an order made by a tribunal, or give a direction under subsection (2), only if —

- (a) a District Court has given under section 23(2) leave to appeal against the order made by the tribunal; and
- (b) no application was made to any District Court for a stay of execution of the order made by the tribunal.

Powers of High Court on appeal

25.—(1) On an appeal against an order made by a tribunal, the High Court may —

- (a) dismiss the appeal;
- (b) allow the appeal and set aside or vary the order; or
- (c) remit the matter to the tribunal for reconsideration, or order a rehearing of the matter by a different tribunal, with such directions as the High Court thinks fit to give.

(2) The High Court may also make on the appeal such other orders (including an order as to costs and expenses) as the High Court thinks fit, but must not —

- (a) reverse or vary any determination made by a tribunal on a question of fact; or
- (b) receive further evidence.

(3) When deciding an appeal against an order made by a tribunal on a claim for employment assistance payment, or on the calculation of the amount of an employment assistance payment, the High Court may take into account the tripartite guidelines on re-employment.

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

(4) When deciding an appeal against an order made by a tribunal on a claim involving a wrongful dismissal dispute, the High Court —

- (a) is to have regard to the tripartite guidelines on wrongful dismissal; and
- (b) if any compensation is claimed, is to calculate the amount of that compensation in accordance with any regulations made under section 34(1).

[Act 55 of 2018 wef 01/04/2019]

Finality of decision of High Court

26. Any judgment, order or direction of the High Court on any of the following matters is final:

- (b) where an employee is dismissed with notice by an employer, and the notice of dismissal is or purports to be given on the ground that there has been poor performance or misconduct by the employee — the employer bears the burden of proving that ground for giving the notice of dismissal;
- (c) where a notice of dismissal is given to a female employee by an employer in the circumstances mentioned in section 84(1)(a), (b) or (c) of the Employment Act, and the female employee lodges a claim mentioned in section 84(2) of that Act against the employer — the employer bears the burden of proving the allegation that the female employee was dismissed with sufficient cause;
- (d) where a notice of dismissal is given to a female employee mentioned in section 12(1) of the Child Development Co-Savings Act by an employer in the circumstances mentioned in section 84(1)(a), (b) or (c) of the Employment Act (as applied to the female employee), and the female employee lodges a claim mentioned in section 84(2) of the Employment Act (as applied to the female employee) against the employer — the employer bears the burden of proving the allegation that the female employee was dismissed with sufficient cause.
