EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

This Bill seeks to amend the Traditional Chinese Medicine Practitioners Act (Cap. 333A) for the following main purposes:

- (a) to enhance the disciplinary framework for persons registered under the Act to carry out any prescribed practice of traditional Chinese medicine (registered persons). This includes the conduct of inquiries relating to the mental or physical condition of registered persons to practise;
- (b) to require registered persons to undergo continuing professional education in order to further raise practice standards of traditional Chinese medicine;
- (c) to expand the investigation powers of investigators;
- (d) to raise the maximum financial penalty that may be imposed on registered persons who commit disciplinary offences, align the penalties that may be imposed under the Act with those for similar contraventions under the Acts governing other healthcare professions and provide the Traditional Chinese Medicine Practitioners Board (the Board) with greater flexibility in determining the appropriate penalties in disciplinary matters.

Clause 1 relates to the short title and commencement.

Clause 2 amends section 2 to introduce new definitions to support amendments elsewhere in the Bill.

Clause 3 amends section 3(2) to increase the maximum size of the Board from 9 to 11 members.

Clause 4 amends section 8 to provide that a member of the Board who is or was a member of an Inquiry Committee formed under the new Part IVA inquiring into a disciplinary matter relating to a registered person —

- (a) must not vote or take part in any discussion or decision of the Board relating to the matter, or otherwise participate in any activity of the Board that relates to the matter;
- (b) must withdraw from any meeting or part of any meeting of the Board considering or discussing the matter if the Chairman or other member of the Board presiding at the meeting so requests; and

- (c) must be disregarded for the purpose of forming a quorum for any meeting or part of any meeting of the Board during which a discussion or decision relating to the matter occurs or is made.

Clause 5 amends section 17 —

- (a) to provide that the Board may refuse to grant a practising certificate to, or renew the practising certificate of, a registered person, if the registered person fails to comply with any requirements relating to continuing professional education requirements for, or any other aspect of, the practice of traditional Chinese medicine that are prescribed in regulations; and
- (b) to amend subsection (6) and insert a new subsection (6A) to make clear that a practising certificate issued to a registered person is deemed to be cancelled when the registration of the registered person is cancelled or suspended under section 19 or 26A, or an interim order made against the registered person by the Board under the new section 26H(1) is confirmed by the Board under the new section 26H(8)(a). The person concerned must surrender any such practising certificate to the Board no later than the 14th day after the cancellation of the practising certificate.

Clause 6 repeals and re-enacts section 18 so that the Registrar of the Board (the Registrar) is not constrained to publishing in the Gazette a list of all registered persons who have in force a practising certificate, as well as their practice addresses, qualifications, classes of registration and the dates of qualifications and registration. The amendment will allow the list to be published in any way that will secure adequate publicity for the list, such as on the Board's website. The power of the Board to direct the Registrar to prepare and publish for sale listings of registered persons is repealed as well.

Clause 7 amends section 19 —

- (a) to amend subsection (1) to make clear, as a consequence of amendments elsewhere in the Bill, the grounds on which the Board may cancel the registration of a registered person;
- (b) to substitute the reference in subsection (1)(k) to mental or physical condition for the existing reference to mental or physical disability, in line with amendments elsewhere in the Bill;
- (c) to amend subsection (2) —
  - (i) to make clear, as a consequence of amendments elsewhere in the Bill, the grounds on which the Board may take the measures mentioned in subsection (2) against a registered person instead of cancelling that person's registration;

- (ii) to give the Board additional options where a registered person is liable to have his or her registration cancelled on any ground mentioned in subsection (1)(e) to (j). The Board may issue a letter of advice to the registered person, order the registered person to give an undertaking to abstain from the conduct that is the subject of a complaint against, or information about, that registered person under the new section 26B, order the alteration of the registered person's class of registration, add, delete or replace (modify) the conditions of the registered person's registration for a period not exceeding 3 years, or order that the complaint or information be referred for mediation between the registered person and the person who made the complaint against, or provided the information about, the registered person; and
  - (iii) to increase the maximum penalty that the Board may order a registered person to pay, instead of cancelling that person's registration, from the existing $10,000 to $50,000. The increased penalty does not apply where the registered person's act or omission that is the subject of the complaint against, or information about, that person occurred before the date of commencement of section 7(d) of the Traditional Chinese Medicine Practitioners (Amendment) Act 2019;
- (d) to insert a new subsection (2A) to provide that where a registered person is liable to have his or her registration cancelled on the ground in subsection (1)(k), the Board may, instead of cancelling the registration, suspend the registered person's registration for a period not exceeding 12 months, alter the registered person's class of registration, or modify the conditions of the registered person's registration for a period not exceeding 3 years; and
- (e) to make changes in respect of when the Board's decision on disciplinary matters made under subsection (1) or (2) or the new subsection (2A) take effect. Subject to the new subsection (5A) and the new section 21(3), the Board's decision does not take effect until the 31st day after the date of the decision, rather than on the date the decision is communicated to the registered person. Where there is an appeal against the decision to the High Court, the decision takes effect on the date of the Court's decision on the appeal. However, under the new subsection (5A), the Board's decision to cancel the registered person's registration takes immediate effect when the Board certifies that there are reasonable grounds to believe that —
- (i) there is a serious and imminent risk to the public if the cancellation does not take immediate effect; or

- (ii) it is appropriate or requisite that the cancellation takes immediate effect in order to avoid any actual incident that endangers the public.

Clause 8 amends section 20 —

- (a) as a consequence of amendments elsewhere in the Bill; and
- (b) to clarify the types of costs and expenses that the Board may require a registered person who is the subject of disciplinary proceedings under the new Part IVA to pay.

Clause 9 amends section 21 —

- (a) as a consequence of amendments elsewhere in the Bill; and
- (b) to insert a new subsection (3) to clarify that, where the Board's decision made under section 19(1) or (2) or the new section 19(2A) is the subject of an appeal to the High Court, the decision does not take effect unless the High Court confirms the Board's decision or dismisses the appeal, or the appeal is withdrawn. However, where the Board's decision to cancel the registration of a registered person under section 19(1) has taken immediate effect by virtue of the Board's certification under the new section 19(5A), the cancellation continues to be in effect despite any appeal to the High Court.

Clause 10 amends section 23(1) to provide that a person whose registration is cancelled under section 19 or the new section 26A can apply to the Board for re-registration in accordance with section 23.

Clause 11 inserts a new Part IVA, which sets out the revised disciplinary framework for registered persons.

The new section 26A allows the Board, at the request and with the agreement of a registered person, to cancel or suspend the registered person's registration, alter the registered person's class of registration or modify the conditions of the registered person's registration for a period not exceeding 3 years. The registered person may make such a request in writing if the registered person believes that —

- (a) the registered person's fitness to practise the prescribed practice of traditional Chinese medicine that the registered person is registered to carry out is impaired by reason of the registered person's mental or physical condition; or
- (b) the quality of the professional services the registered person provides does not meet the standard which is reasonable to expect of a traditional Chinese medicine practitioner carrying out the prescribed practice of traditional Chinese medicine that the registered person is registered to carry out.

However, the Board must not take any action under the new section 26A(2) if —

- (a) the Board believes that there is evidence that the registered person —
  - (i) has been convicted of an offence, in Singapore or elsewhere, involving fraud or dishonesty or implying a defect in character which renders the registered person unfit to remain on the Register; or
  - (ii) has been guilty of any professional misconduct or negligence, or of any improper act or conduct which renders the registered person unfit to remain on the Register; or
- (b) an inquiry under the new Division 2 has started and is pending against the registered person.

The new section 26B provides that a person (complainant) may make a complaint against, or provide information about, any registered person to the Board touching on any matter mentioned in section 19(1). The complainant may include a member or an employee of the Board. The complaint or information must be in writing. The complaint or information also must, where it relates to a matter in section 19(1)(e), (f), (i), (j) or (k), be supported by a statutory declaration, unless the complainant is a public officer or a member or an employee of the Board acting in that person's capacity as a public officer or such a member or an employee.

The new section 26C provides that all complaints or information received under the new section 26B will be reviewed by the Board. The Board may require the complainant or registered person concerned to answer any inquiry or provide any record that the Board considers relevant for the purpose of the review. The Board may dismiss any complaint or information where the Board is unanimously of the opinion that the complaint or information is frivolous, vexatious, misconceived or lacking in substance. If the Board does not dismiss the complaint or information on such grounds, the Board must refer the complaint or information to an Inquiry Committee.

The new section 26D provides that a disciplinary matter may proceed even though the complainant subsequently withdraws the complaint or information.

The new section 26E sets out the process for the Inquiry Committee to carry out its inquiry into the complaint against, or information about, the registered person. For the purposes of the inquiry, the Inquiry Committee must —

- (a) direct one or more investigators appointed under the new section 28 to investigate into the facts and circumstances of the complaint or information; and

- (b) afford the registered person concerned an opportunity of appearing before the Inquiry Committee (whether in person or represented by counsel) to be heard on the complaint or information.

Where, in the course of its inquiry on a matter other than that in section 19(1)(k), it appears to the Inquiry Committee that the registered person's fitness to practise the prescribed practice of traditional Chinese medicine that the registered person is registered to carry out may be impaired by his or her mental or physical condition, the Inquiry Committee must immediately refer the matter to the Board. The Board must then refer the matter to a different Inquiry Committee for a separate inquiry into the registered person's fitness to practise to be conducted in accordance with the new Part IVA.

The new section 26F deals with the investigator's conduct of the investigation into the facts and circumstances of the complaint against, or information about, the registered person. The investigator must give written notice to the registered person of the complaint or information, including copies of the complaint or information and any supporting statutory declaration. Upon completing the investigation, the investigator must submit to the Inquiry Committee an investigation report of the findings of the investigation, which must include any written explanation given by the registered person after receiving written notice of the complaint or information.

The new section 26F also sets out the steps to be taken where the investigator, in the course of the investigation, receives any information touching on the conduct, mental or physical condition or professional performance of —

- (a) the same registered person, which is outside the subject matter of the complaint or information the investigator is directed to investigate by the Inquiry Committee; or
- (b) another registered person.

Under the new section 26G, the report of the Inquiry Committee to the Board required by the new section 26E(2) must contain the findings of the Inquiry Committee, and any of the following recommendations:

- (a) to take any action mentioned in section 19(1) or (2) or the new section 19(2A);
- (b) to dismiss the complaint or information.

The Board may, after considering the report of the Inquiry Committee —

- (a) take any action mentioned in section 19(1) or (2) or the new section 19(2A) as the Board thinks fit;
- (b) dismiss the complaint or information; or

- (c) refer the complaint or information back to the Inquiry Committee for its reconsideration or a further report. The Board may do so once only. Where the Board does so, the Inquiry Committee may direct an investigator to conduct such further investigations as may be necessary. The Board must take into account the Inquiry Committee's response or further report when deciding on the disciplinary action to be taken against the registered person.

The new section 26H provides that the Board may, in lieu of an inquiry under the new Division 2 of Part IVA, make an interim order against a registered person. However, an interim order may be made only where it appears to the Board that the registered person must without delay stop carrying out any prescribed practice of traditional Chinese medicine because there are reasonable grounds to believe that —

- (a) there is a serious and imminent risk to the public if there is no such stoppage; or
- (b) it is appropriate or requisite that an interim order be made in order to avoid any actual incident that endangers the public. In this respect, the Board must have regard, in particular, to the extent to which the registered person or any other person is likely to sustain harm or damage, and the nature and foreseeable consequences of any such harm or damage, if the registered person continues to practise before the Board makes a decision under the new section 26G(2)(a) or (b) following an inquiry under the new Division 2.

Under the interim order, the registered person concerned must stop carrying out the prescribed practice of traditional Chinese medicine that the person is registered to carry out. The interim order has effect for a period not exceeding 18 months as the order may specify, unless it is confirmed by the Board under the new section 26H(8)(a).

The Board may confirm the interim order, with or without modifications, if the Board is satisfied that it continues to be necessary to prevent the registered person from carrying on the prescribed practice of traditional Chinese medicine that the registered person is registered to carry out. Before the Board confirms the interim order, the Board must refer the interim order to an Inquiry Committee, and give written notice to the registered person of its proposal to confirm the interim order and the facts which, in the Board's opinion, justify the confirmation and modifications (if any) of the interim order.

The Inquiry Committee to which the interim order is referred must act in accordance with the new sections 26E (except subsection (4)(b)), 26F and 26G(1)(a) with the necessary modifications. The registered person may make representations or objections to the Inquiry Committee with respect to the proposed confirmation and modifications (if any) of the interim order. The Inquiry Committee must also afford the registered person an opportunity of appearing before it (whether in person or represented by counsel) to be heard on the proposed confirmation and modifications (if any) of the interim order. After considering the facts cited by the Board and the registered person's representations or objections, the Inquiry Committee makes its recommendation to the Board on the proposed confirmation and modifications, if any. The Board, after considering the Inquiry Committee's recommendation, may confirm the interim order, with or without modifications, or not confirm the interim order.

The new section 26I provides for the appointment and composition of Inquiry Committees for the purposes of the new Part IVA.

The new section 26J provides that the Board may —

- (a) dissolve an Inquiry Committee if the Board is satisfied that more than half of the members of the Inquiry Committee are unable to carry out their duties properly and effectively because of any conflict of interest or potential conflict of interest on the part of each member concerned;
- (b) remove a member of an Inquiry Committee, and appoint another person in place of that member, where the Board is satisfied that that member is unable to carry out his or her duties properly and effectively because of any conflict of interest or potential conflict of interest; and
- (c) fill any vacancy in any Inquiry Committee that occurs because of the death or illness of, or other cause preventing, a member of the Inquiry Committee from continuing with his or her duties.

The new section 26K provides that a person to whom the section applies must not disclose any information contained in any document as may have come to the person's knowledge in the course of an inquiry under the new Part IVA except in the specified situations. It is an offence for a person to whom the section applies to contravene this prohibition.

Clause 12 repeals and re-enacts sections 28, 29 and 30, and inserts a new section 30A.

The new section 28 empowers the Board to appoint a member or an employee of the Board, a public officer or any other person as an investigator.

The new section 29 confers investigation powers on an investigator for the purpose of investigating into offences under the Act or its subsidiary legislation, investigating into any complaint or information under the new Part IVA or determining whether any information provided to the Board under the Act or its subsidiary legislation is correct.

The new section 30 makes it an offence for a person —

- (a) to provide a document or record or give information that is false or misleading in a material particular, or give a statement or information which omits any matter or thing without which the statement or information (as the case may be) is misleading in a material particular, where the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, that this is the case;

- (b) to knowingly obstruct or prevent, or attempt to obstruct or prevent, an investigator in the discharge of the investigator's powers or duties under the Act or its subsidiary legislation;
- (c) to intentionally alter, suppress or destroy any document, record or information which the person is required by or under the new section 29(2)(k) or (3)(a) to provide, or who, in providing any such document, record or information, makes any statement which the person knows or ought reasonably to know, or is reckless as to whether, it is false or misleading in a material particular; or
- (d) to fail, without reasonable excuse, to provide any information as required under the new section 29(2)(k) or (3)(a).

The new section 30A provides for the disposal and forfeiture of any document, record or thing seized by an investigator under the new section 29(2)(j).

Clause 13 amends section 31 to provide that all penalties and composition sums collected under the Act must be paid into the Consolidated Fund.

Clause 14 inserts a new section 34A to provide that the Board may compound any offence under the Act that is prescribed as a compoundable offence, without having to rely on section 243 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Cap. 68). The maximum composition sum is the lower of one half of the amount of the maximum fine that is prescribed for the offence or $2,000.

Clause 15 amends section 36(2) to clarify, in support of amendments elsewhere in the Bill, the matters in respect of which regulations may be made under section 36(1).

Clause 16 is a saving and transitional provision.
