EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

This Bill seeks to make various amendments to the Stamp Duties Act (Cap. 312).

Clause 1 relates to the short title and commencement.

Clause 2 amends section 15A (Relief from ad valorem stamp duty for acquisition of shares of company) for the following purposes:

- (a) to clarify that the acquiring company and one or more acquiring subsidiaries may together make qualifying acquisitions of ordinary shares in the same target company, and to further clarify that it is the cumulative ownership of such shares by the acquiring company and its acquiring subsidiaries that determines whether or not the threshold requirements of more than 50%, or 75% or more, have been reached;
- (b) to remove the requirement (for an instrument whose date of acquisition as defined under subsection (20) is a date between 17th February 2012 and 31st March 2015) that an acquiring subsidiary must be wholly and directly owned by the acquiring company, and to provide instead that an acquiring subsidiary must be wholly owned (whether directly or indirectly) by the acquiring company;
- (c) to make an editorial amendment to subsection (4)(c); and

(d) to delete the first occurrence of the words “, as the case may be,” in subsection (7) as the amendment referred to in paragraph (a) has made these words superfluous.

Clause 3 makes a clarifying amendment to section 22 (Contracts, etc., to be chargeable as conveyances on sale) as ad valorem duty is no longer chargeable on a conveyance on sale of goods, wares, merchandise, marketable securities, ship or vessel.

Clause 4(a) amends section 22A(8). That provision currently provides for the consideration used to determine the amount of seller stamp duty chargeable under section 22 on a conveyance of specified immovable property, to be reduced by an amount considered as attributable to any part of the property used for a non-prescribed purpose. The amendment allows the consideration to be reduced by an amount considered as attributable to any part of the specified immovable property which may be used under the Master Plan or Planning Act for a non-prescribed purpose.

Clause 4(b) amends the definition of “specified immovable property” in section 22A(13) for the purpose of section 22A. Property is specified immovable property so long as it is zoned under the Master Plan, or permitted under the Planning Act (Cap. 232) for use for the purpose, specified in the section 22A Order. No reference is to be made to its actual or intended use.

Clause 4(d) deletes paragraph (f) of section 22A(13) and substitutes new paragraphs (f) and (g). The current paragraph (f) of section 22A(13) provides that a reference to a person acquiring any property includes a reference to a situation where, subsequent to his acquisition of any land, building or part thereof or any interest therein, the land is zoned in the Master Plan for a prescribed purpose or the building or part thereof is permitted under the Planning Act to be used for a prescribed purpose. The new paragraph (f) permits its application to land and buildings on it to be further calibrated in the section 22A Order.

The new paragraph (g) defines what is meant by “permitted under the Planning Act” for the purpose of the definition of “specified immovable property” as well as section 22A(8) and (13)(f). Temporary written permission for a period not exceeding 10 years will be excluded.

Clause 5 makes a consequential amendment to section 22B(3)(a) as a result of the amendment made to the definition of “specified immovable property” in section 22A.

Clause 6 makes an amendment to subsection (2) of section 29 (Security for future advances, how to be charged) as a result of the replacement of adhesive and impressed stamps with electronic stamping. The provision, which provides that a security for an unlimited amount is only available for such amount as the duty impressed thereon extends to cover, is amended to include a reference to the amount of duty denoted by the stamp certificate attached to the instrument.

Clause 7 amends the period under section 40 (Appeal to the High Court) for the filing of an appeal to the High Court against a decision of the Commissioner of Stamp Duties (the Commissioner) on a notice of objection, and for the service of a notice of such appeal on the Commissioner. The period is extended from 21 to 30 days.

Clause 8 deletes paragraph (a) of section 48 (Denoting penalty), which provides that the payment of a penalty may be denoted on a physical stamp, as such stamps are no longer in use.

Clause 9 amends the heading to Part VIII as a result of the amendments under clauses 10 and 11.

Clause 10 amends section 57 (Allowance for spoiled stamps) by deleting all references to spoiled stamps. The concept of a spoiled stamp is no longer relevant as instruments are now stamped by electronic means.

Clause 11 amends section 58 (Allowance for misused stamps) for a purpose similar to that for clause 10.

Clause 12 amends section 74 (Power to reduce or remit duties) to treat orders made before 1st January 2012 as rules made under that section. This is to enable rules to be made for the purpose of amending orders made under that section before that date.

Clause 13 amends section 78 (Power to amend Schedules) to allow the Minister to make provisions modifying the application of certain provisions of the Act as a result of any amendment to the First or Third Schedule (which set out, respectively, the types of dutiable instruments and persons liable to pay duty on them). The provisions are those which deem certain instruments as dutiable instruments under the First Schedule. Such power is necessary to enable amendments to be made to those provisions in order to prescribe the corresponding circumstances in which the amendments to the First and Third Schedules are to apply in relation to those provisions, as well as to resolve any uncertainty in the operation of those provisions as a result of an amendment to the First and Third Schedules.

Clause 14 is a savings provision for the amendment to section 40 in clause 7. It applies the period of filing an appeal to the High Court and serving a notice of such appeal under the old section 40 to decisions of the Commissioner made before the commencement of the amendment. The clause also enables the Minister to make regulations to prescribe further savings and transitional provisions.

EXPENDITURE OF PUBLIC MONEY

This Bill will not involve the Government in any extra financial expenditure.
