Recall orders

13.—(1) Where a person who is released from a reformative training centre subject to a supervision order fails, during the person's supervision period, to comply with any requirement for the time being specified in the supervision order, the person may be recalled to that or any other reformative training centre before the end of that supervision period by a recall order issued by —

- (a) the Committee of that or any other reformative training centre; or
- (b) the Commissioner, or a person authorised by the Commissioner to issue a recall order (called in this regulation the authorised person), if the Commissioner or authorised person agrees with the recommendation of the Superintendent of that or any other reformative training centre to recall the person.

(2) Every recall order issued under paragraph (1) recalling a person to a reformative training centre must state the date on which the person must report to the reformative training centre for re-detention.

(3) A recall order issued by the Committee may order the re-detention of a person in a reformative training centre for —

- (a) a period ending no later than 3 years after the person's RTC date; or
 - (b) a period ending no later than 6 months after the date the person is re-detained under the recall order, whichever period in sub-paragraph (a) or (b) ends later.

(4) A recall order issued by the Commissioner or authorised person may order the re-detention of a person in a reformatory training centre, in respect of a failure to comply with any requirement for the time being specified in the person's supervision order, for —

- (a) a period no longer than 10 days for a single failure; or
- (b) if there are 2 or more failures, a period no longer than 10 days for each such failure but not exceeding 30 days in total.

(5) Nothing in this regulation prevents a Committee from issuing a recall order in respect of a person, being a person in respect of whom the Commissioner, or authorised person, has earlier issued a recall order for failing to comply with a requirement specified in the person's supervision order, if the Committee is satisfied that the person has failed to comply with any other requirement for the time being specified in the person's supervision order.

(6) Despite paragraph (3), a recall order issued by a Committee in respect of a person in the circumstances in paragraph (5) may, if the person is re-detained under a recall order earlier issued by the Commissioner or authorised person, order a longer re-detention of the person in a reformatory training centre, for —

- (a) a period ending no later than 3 years after the person's RTC date; or
- (b) a period ending no later than 6 months after the date the person is so re-detained under the recall order earlier issued by the Commissioner or authorised person, whichever period in sub-paragraph (a) or (b) ends later.

(7) Despite any recall order ordering that a person be re-detained in a reformatory training centre —

- (a) the Committee may, at any time before the end of the applicable period specified in paragraph (3) or (6), release the person under a supervision order; and
- (b) regulation 12 applies to the person so released as it applies to a person released under regulation 4.
- (8) Despite paragraphs (3)(b) and (6)(b), a recall order issued by the Committee must not order the re-detention of a person in a reformatory training centre for a period extending beyond 54 months after the person's RTC date.
- (9) If a recall order is issued in relation to a person and the person fails to report to a reformatory training centre under the recall order —
- (a) in the case of a person sentenced to reformatory training before 31 October 2018, the recall order ceases to have effect at the end of 4 years after the person's RTC date; and
- (b) in any other case, the recall order ceases to have effect only at the end of 54 months after the person's RTC date.
- (10) A person recalled under this regulation to a reformatory training centre who does not report to the reformatory training centre on the date specified in the recall order is treated as unlawfully at large.

Effect of recall order on supervision period

14. A recall order issued in respect of a person subject to a supervision order has the following effect:

- (a) for a recall order issued by the Commissioner, or an authorised person mentioned in regulation 13(1)(b), the supervision period under the supervision order does not end when the person reports to the reformatory training centre concerned to be re-detained, but is suspended —
- (i) from the time the person is a detainee because of the re-detention; and
- (ii) until the time that re-detention under the recall order ends;

- (b) for a recall order issued by a Committee, the supervision period under the supervision order ends —
- (i) when the person reports to the reformatory training centre concerned to be re-detained; or
 - (ii) when the recall order is issued by the Committee in the circumstances mentioned in regulation 13(5), if the person is already a detainee in a reformatory training centre because of an earlier recall order issued by the Commissioner or an authorised person mentioned in regulation 13(1)(b).

Release to engage in employment, educational course, etc.

15.—(1) Despite regulation 4, the Commissioner or a person authorised by the Commissioner to make a direction under this regulation (called in this regulation the authorised person) may, from time to time, on the recommendation of a Committee, direct that a detainee be released from day to day to engage in such employment (including self-employment), educational course, occupational training or other activity, as specified by the Commissioner or the authorised person.

(2) Any direction made under paragraph (1) has effect for a period to be fixed by the Commissioner or authorised person, and may be subject to such conditions and restrictions as the Commissioner or authorised person may impose.

(3) The conditions and restrictions that the Commissioner or authorised person may impose under paragraph (2) on a person released under paragraph (1) include the following conditions and restrictions:

- (a) the person must not leave the reformatory training centre without the approval of the Superintendent of the centre;
- (b) the person must not be absent, without good cause, from the employment, educational course, occupational training or other activity specified by the Commissioner or authorised person under paragraph (1);

- (c) the person must immediately after completing the person's employment, educational course, occupational training or activity for the day —
- (i) return to the reformative training centre and report to the officer designated by the Superintendent; or
 - (ii) if the Commissioner or authorised person grants leave to the person under paragraph (5), return to the specified place;
- (d) the person must provide a specimen of the person's urine or hair for testing at such time and place as may be required by the Superintendent;
- (e) the person must not commit any act of gross misconduct or insubordination;
- (f) the person must not commit any offence.
- (4) The Commissioner or authorised person may at any time revoke any direction made under paragraph (1).
- (5) Where the Commissioner or authorised person has directed that a person be released under paragraph (1), the Commissioner or authorised person may, subject to such conditions and restrictions as the Commissioner or authorised person thinks fit, grant leave to the person to spend the period during which the person is released at such place as the Commissioner or authorised person may specify (called in this regulation the specified place).
- (6) The conditions and restrictions that the Commissioner or authorised person may impose under paragraph (5) on a person granted leave under that paragraph include the following conditions and restrictions:
- (a) the person must remain indoors at the specified place at such times as the Superintendent may specify;
 - (b) the person must wear such electronic transmitting device on such part of his or her person as the Superintendent may specify;
 - (c) the person must allow the Superintendent, or any person authorised by the Superintendent, to enter at any time the specified place to install, inspect, maintain, repair or retrieve any electronic monitoring device;

- (d) the person must comply with all requirements to ensure the proper functioning of any electronic monitoring device issued to the person or installed at the specified place;
- (e) the person must not tamper with any electronic monitoring device issued to the person or installed at the specified place, or otherwise prevent or obstruct the electronic monitoring of the person's whereabouts;
- (f) the person must inform the Superintendent, or any other person designated by the Superintendent, immediately of any malfunction, damage or loss of the electronic monitoring device;
- (g) the person must respond promptly to any telephone call from the centre set up to monitor persons who have been issued with the electronic monitoring device;
- (h) the person must comply with all reporting requirements imposed on the person.

(7) The Commissioner or authorised person may at any time revoke any leave granted to a person under paragraph (5).

(8) While any direction for the release of a person under paragraph (1), or any leave granted to a person under paragraph (5), is in force, the Superintendent of the reformative training centre at which the person is detained must release the person at such times and for such periods as are necessary to give effect to the direction or grant of leave (as the case may be).

(9) If any person released pursuant to a direction made under paragraph (1), or granted leave under paragraph (5), remains at large without lawful excuse or fails to return to the reformative training centre from which the person was released, after such direction or leave has been revoked, the person is unlawfully at large.

(10) Every person released from a reformative training centre under this regulation continues to be in the custody of the Superintendent of the centre while so released.
