[S 361/2012 wef 31/07/2012]

(h) such other terms as the Authority considers appropriate.

[S 361/2012 wef 31/07/2012]

Formula for price or amount

7A.—(1) For the purposes of rule 7(2)(a), the formula for calculating a price or an amount is

$$RYCap_t = \frac{Opex_{aero\ t} + Depreciation_{aero\ t} + CoC_{aero\ t} - H\% * Profit_{non-aero\ t} - Adjustment_t}{Vol_{pax\ t}}$$

Where t	is the year in the regulatory period for which the RYCap is to be determined;
$RYCap_t$	is the revenue yield cap or aeronautical revenue earned per passenger in the relevant year t ;
$Opex_{aero_t}$	is the operating expenses incurred from the provision of aeronautical services and facilities, including security-related operating expenses not recovered from projected security-related revenue, projected for the relevant year t ;
Depreciation $_{aero_t}$	is the projected depreciation of assets utilised from the provision of aeronautical services and facilities, including the projected depreciation of security-related assets not recovered from projected security-related revenue, in the relevant year t ;
CoC_{aero_t}	is the sum of computed pre-tax weighted average cost of capital (WACC) on the average regulated asset base and the computed pre-tax WACC on the average security asset base not recovered from projected security-related revenue, in the relevant year t ;
$H\%$	is the level of contribution applied on the projected non-aeronautical economic profits in the relevant year t ;
Profit $_{non-aero_t}$	is the projected non-aeronautical economic profits in the relevant year t ;
Adjustment $_t$	is the allowable adjustments made, on a net present value-neutral basis, to the projected aeronautical revenue in the relevant year t which may include, but are not limited to, positive or negative adjustments to account for revenue profiling requirements, under-recovery and over-recovery from previous regulatory periods and deviations from capital expenditure forecasts;
Vol_{pax_t}	is the projected total passenger movement for the relevant year t .

(2) In this rule —

“average regulated asset base”, in relation to any year, means the average of the starting and ending value of the regulated asset base for the year;

“average security asset base”, in relation to any year, means the average of the starting value and the ending value of the security asset base for the year;

“non-aeronautical economic profit” means the operating profit derived from the provision of non-aeronautical services and facilities, net of depreciation and the pre-tax weighted average cost of capital on the average non-regulated asset base;

“regulated asset base”, in relation to an airport licensee for an airport, means such assets, including working capital and work-in-progress assets, that are utilised by the airport licensee in the provision of aeronautical services and facilities at the airport;

“security asset base”, in relation to an airport licensee for an airport, means such assets, including working capital and work-in-progress assets, that are utilised by the airport licensee in the provision of security services and facilities at the airport.

(3) In computing the average regulated asset base in relation to any year within a regulatory period —

(a) the starting value of the regulated asset base for the next regulatory period shall be equal to its value at the end of the last regulatory period; and

(b) the projected ending value of the regulated asset base of each year in the regulatory period shall be its starting value plus —

(i) projected aeronautical capital expenditure during the year;

(ii) projected change in work-in-progress assets; and

(iii) projected net changes to net aeronautical working capital, where aeronautical working capital is to be determined by the Authority after consultation with the airport licensee, but less projected depreciation and disposals of aeronautical assets.

(4) In computing the average security asset base in relation to any year within a regulatory period —

(a) the starting value of the security asset base for the next regulatory period shall be equal to its value at the end of the last regulatory period; and

(b) the projected ending value of the security asset base of each year in the regulatory period shall be its starting value plus —

(i) projected security capital expenditure during the year;

(ii) projected change in work-in-progress assets; and

(iii) projected net changes to net security working capital, where security working capital is to be determined by the Authority after consultation with the airport licensee, but less projected depreciation and disposals of security assets.

[S 284/2010 wef 01/06/2010]

When determination takes effect and ends

8.—(1) A determination must specify the day on which the determination expires which —

(a) must be 31st March 2012 in the case of the first regulatory period; and

(b) in any other case —

- (ii) where an airport licensee is a former exempt airport licensee, must be the end of such period as the Authority specifies for each regulatory period applicable to that airport licensee.

[S 361/2012 wef 31/07/2012]

(2) Subject to Part V, a determination takes effect —

- (a) if at the time the determination is made no existing determination is in force, on the day specified in the determination;
- (b) if at the time the determination is made an existing determination is in force having not yet reached its expiry date, on the expiry or revocation of that existing determination; or
- (c) if at the time the determination is made an existing determination is in force by reason of paragraph (5), on the day specified in that determination.

(3) Notwithstanding paragraph (2), the determination for the first regulatory period shall take effect on 1st July 2009.

(4) A determination ceases to have effect —

- (a) if the determination is revoked, on the day that revocation takes effect; or
- (b) in any other case, on the day specified in the determination as the day on which it expires.

(5) If on the day on which an existing determination is due to expire an inquiry is being conducted in respect of a service to which the existing determination relates, the existing determination —

- (a) continues to have effect in respect of that service; but
- (b) subject to these Rules, ceases to have effect in respect of any other service to which it relates.

- (b) the answer, document, other information or part contains information which could cause damage to the commercial interests of a person and the Authority determines that such damage or the possibility of such damage outweighs the public benefit that would arise from its publication.

(4) Any person who contravenes a direction under paragraph (2) shall be guilty of an offence.

Hearings

16.—(1) Before conducting a hearing referred to in rule 13(2)(d), the Authority must give reasonable notice of the hearing to the airport licensee concerned, the designated airport users for the first regulatory period and such other relevant consumers or users of airport services and facilities provided by the airport licensee concerned as the Authority determines.

PART V

ADJUSTMENTS AND REVOCATIONS

Adjustments for pass-through event, etc.

29.—(1) If a determination allows for an adjustment to the maximum revenues under the determination as a result of the occurrence of a pass-through event or under a performance incentive scheme, that adjustment does not take effect until it has been approved by the Authority.

(2) If when considering whether to approve an adjustment the Authority determines that a pass-through event has not occurred or a standard of performance required for an adjustment has not been reached, the Authority must notify the airport licensee concerned of that determination.

(3) The Authority is not to approve an adjustment unless it is satisfied that the adjustment has been calculated in accordance with the method of calculating that adjustment, or the principles and general manner to be applied in making the adjustment or doing the calculation of the adjustment, specified in the determination.

(4) On approving or refusing to approve an adjustment, the Authority must notify the airport licensee concerned of that determination.

Mid-term review

30.—(1) The Authority must specify —

a date as being the middle of that regulatory period (referred to in this rule as the mid-term review date).

(2) At least 3 months before the mid-term review date for a regulatory period, the airport licensee for an airport must provide the Authority with the following information:

- (a) actual capital expenditure incurred since the start of the regulatory period on material capital expenditure and significant capital expenditure in respect of the airport;
- (b) a summary of current aeronautical charges;
- (c) a summary of actual aeronautical revenue earned per passenger for the financial years within the regulatory period;
- (d) a summary of operating statistics for the financial years within the regulatory period including traffic results such as the number of passengers, the number of connecting passengers, cargo tonnage and the number of aircraft movements; and
- (e) since the start of the regulatory period, the actual annual electricity rate, the actual annual consumption amount incurred by the airport licensee and such other parties as specified by the Authority in the determination in force for that regulatory period where available.

(3) After receiving the information referred to in paragraph (2), the Authority must, on the mid-term review date of a regulatory period or without delay thereafter, commence a mid-term review to consider —

- (a) any deviation in the implementation of any material capital expenditure and significant capital expenditure in respect of the airport;
- (b) any excessive over-recovery or under-recovery by the airport licensee of the revenue yield cap;

- (c) any deviation in electricity costs by the airport licensee in the provision of aeronautical services and facilities at the airport in comparison to the projections made for the period before the mid-term review; or

[S 361/2012 wef 31/07/2012]

- (d) any other deviations that the Authority considers to have a substantive impact on the revenue yield caps set for the regulatory period.

[S 284/2010 wef 01/06/2010]

(4) The Authority must complete the mid-term review and decide whether to amend the determination for the regulatory period not later than 4 months after the mid-term review date.

(8) A decision amending a determination under this rule takes effect on the day specified in it.

(9) This rule shall not apply to or in relation to any determination comprising a tariff of aeronautical charges.

- (a) amend the determination for any regulatory period;
- (b) revoke the determination for any regulatory period; or

- (iii) the Authority is satisfied that —
 - (A) a price variation trigger has happened; or
 - (B) there has been a material change in the cost conditions and capital expenditure requirements for the provision of the aeronautical services and facilities and security services and facilities by the airport licensee and the change was brought about by external events not reasonably foreseeable by and beyond the control of the airport licensee.

(2) Before amending or revoking, or revoking and substituting, a determination under paragraph (1), the Authority must —

- (a) invite submissions with respect to the matter within the reasonable period specified in the invitation; and

(5) A determination under paragraph (1) amending or revoking, or revoking and substituting another determination takes effect on the day specified in it.

Price variation trigger

32.—(1) The Authority may only commence an inquiry to ascertain whether a determination in force for a regulatory period for aeronautical services and facilities provided by an airport licensee should be amended or revoked during that regulatory period if —

- (a) a price variation trigger specified in the determination has happened; or
- (b) the Authority is satisfied that there has been a material change in the cost conditions or capital expenditure requirements for the provision of the aeronautical services and facilities and security services and facilities by the airport licensee, and that the change was brought about by external events not reasonably foreseeable by and beyond the control of the airport licensee.
